

This Friday, all of the children are invited to attend school wearing 'Odd Socks!' They can wear superhero socks, dinosaur socks, unicorn socks, stripy, spotty...any socks they want!

The purpose of the activity is to raise awareness of bullying; especially as it is anti-bullying week. The children have taken part in an assembly, promoting respect and have gained a better understanding into the meaning of bullying, and how it affects others.

As a school we would like to promote respect, as these are important life skills, and it also provides a safe nurturing environment. We will be carrying out interviews for children who are interested in becoming an ambassador for the anti-bullying team. Each year group will have two positions available, where they will support the staff in promoting respect and helping others.

If your child is interested in becoming an ambassador in the Anti-Bullying Team, they should write a letter to explain why they would be suited to the job.

We are looking for children who;

- Enjoys taking on new responsibilities
- are good at listening to others
- can set a good example (Role Model)
- is organised

The deadline for the application is Monday 19th November.
Good luck!

Yours sincerely,

Mr. McShane (Anti-Bullying Team)
