

Why askOLA?

askOLA found an immediate need for online tutoring services to compliment any existing school services. Support needs to be available to students on-demand and outside of school hours.

- Beyond expected engagement immediately after school and in homework clubs, 7.30pm is the most popular time for students to use with the platform and chat to our tutors
- Student driven engagement is higher on a Saturday than on a Monday, Tuesday, or Friday.

52% of student time is spent outside of school – if this is when they want to learn, who can they turn to? Services that don't provide access to support over these crucial extended hours are missing a trick. And it's the kids who have been missing out.

Luckily for you, your child's school has recently introduced askOLA. You can find out more about the online tutoring service here Parent and Carer - askOLA Online tutoring

In order for your child to get the very best from the service, they might need a few reminders. A gentle nod, a nudge of encouragement. A new family motto; if in doubt, just askOLA!

As parents, we get it. None of us can be there to support learning all of the time and we won't always have the answer either! But, with the click of a button your child can connect with a subject specialist and have the instant support they need- whether it's for 5 minutes or several hours.

Together, we're improving outcomes for all.
