

Torch tag

A terrific twilight game

How to play...

- 1 One player is IT and has the torch. IT guards a flag and tries to stop the other players from capturing it. (IT can move around as much as they like, but watch out – if the flag is left unattended for too long it might get captured!)
- 2 The rest of the players spread out and have to creep towards the flag as silently and slowly as they can, using trees and bushes for cover.

- 3 IT has to listen carefully and look for players among the shadows, then try to tag the players with the torch beam before they reach the flag.
- 4 The winner is the first person to capture the flag, or the last person to be tagged if no-one reaches the flag. The winner also gets to be IT when the game starts again.

This game is best played at twilight, before it gets too dark to see where you're going.
