ATL Grade	Descriptor
Very high standard	Your child consistently shows a highly positive attitude towards learning. They are enthusiastic, motivated, and often take the initiative to go beyond what is required. They consistently show an exceptional commitment to their studies both in class and at home. They show confidence and are very independent in the development of their ideas and work. They actively engage in class discussion, regularly offering insight and opinion.
Good	Your child shows a positive approach to their studies. They engage well in class activities, put in a reasonable effort, and demonstrate a good attitude towards learning both in class and at home. They show some independence in their approach to their work and this confidence is developing. They sometimes take part in class discussion.
Below expectation	Your child's attitude to learning shows room for improvement. They may be less engaged, struggle with motivation, or not put in the necessary effort whether that is in class or on homework tasks. They show minimal independence in their approach to the development of their work, relying on teacher direction. We will continue to help them develop a more positive and proactive approach to their learning.
