Sophie – For how brilliantly you have come into school each day. At the beginning of the week, you seemed quite nervous but with each passing day, you have become braver and your smile has gotten wider. I feel so proud of you!

Isabel – For showing true resilience in how you have come into school each morning. You have such courage and bravery and you should be so proud of yourself because I definitely am!

Asia

Max - For your excellent effort with handwriting and letter formation this week. You have shown great care, determination, and perseverance in your work. Keep up the fantastic work. We are very proud of you!

Matilda - For working so hard on your maths this week. You carefully checked your counting, taking your time, and shown great determination to do your best. You have a fantastic attitude to learning!

South America

Lewis – For showing brilliant resilience in both English and Maths this week. You tried so hard to use your sound mat and maths resources to complete your work on your new table. Well done, Lewis!

Harper – For showing resilience in your Maths Fluency this week. You used your number bonds well to write number sentences and explained your answer beautifully. Well done, Harper!

Word of the Week

North America

Jesse – For showing fantastic resilience in English this week when learning to extend his sentences with conjunctions with and, but and so. It initially felt challenging, but they didn't give up. They used a talk-partner and visual sentence-strips to practise aloud first, showing great determination to write their sentences independently. Well done you!

Poppy - Poppy has shown outstanding resilience in maths this week! She has demonstrated beautiful listening and followed instructions brilliantly. Even when tackling tricky problems, Poppy stayed focused, collaborated wonderfully with her group, and knew when to ask for help instead of giving up. We are so proud of the incredible effort you are putting into your learning, Poppy, keep shining!
