

Learner of the Week

Africa

Leo N – For always being ready to learn at Nursery, you show such good learning behaviours Leo, well done!

Ariana – For trying new things and having a go, we love your enthusiasm, Ariana!

Antarctica

Everyone! - Your behaviour on our trip yesterday was fantastic and we had a wonderful day. You were, kind, safe and respectful.

Australia

Cleo – For your fantastic writing every week, you think of brilliant sentences, always remember your punctuation, and always write with a smile!

Pippa – For your brilliant creativity at the painting table, it's wonderful watching you paint beautiful pictures with your lovely imagination.

Europe

Rose – For working so hard on your writing over this past term. You have thought so carefully about your handwriting and have been so patient with yourself, saying your sentence out loud so that you know exactly what words you want to include and thinking about exciting punctuation you can use!

Jesse – For putting all of your effort into your writing over this past term! You have worked so hard, all of the time, to make it as neat as possible and you have been so patient with ensuring your sentences make sense! I am so proud of you!

Asia

Jeeya - For taking your time with your English. You are saying out loud what you want to write and checking your work as you go. Well done!

Isaac - For working so well on your art this week when making our clay hedgehogs, and for supporting your peers with their work once you were finished—thank you for being so kind and helpful!

South America

Mason – for your absolutely fabulous work in maths! You have blown us away with your knowledge of multiplication, sharing your learning with others and using manipulatives to show your thinking. We are so proud of you.

Bonnie – for your beautiful art work this half term. You are such a creative little artist, we love the way that you see the world and use different materials so thoughtfully in your creations. Your clay duckling was superb!

North America

Ophelia – For the beautiful clay rose you made in Art! You showed wonderful focus and attention to detail and an excellent use of slip to join and smooth your sculpture.

Quinn - For your persistence when you are finding something tricky. You show great determination and willingness to take on feedback to progress. Well done for having such a fantastic attitude towards your learning!
