

Learner of the Week

Focus - Making the right choices in our behaviour for learning

Africa

Jake – For always being so kind to all his classmates - We are so proud of you Jake!

Zachary – For joining in with everything at Nursery with such enthusiasm – we love having you here with us Zachary!

Antarctica

Lily H – You always know what you are supposed to be doing and you try hard in everything you do. You are kind respectful and helpful and you take pride in your learning.

Isabel – You listen carefully to instructions, and you can show excellent learning behaviours in the classroom and around the school. You take pride in all your learning.

Australia

Ellie – For always working so hard with all your learning, you always try your very best and take such pride in your work – you should be very, very proud of yourself.

Mara – For being a wonderfully respectful member of the class. You always make brilliant choices; show me you are always ready to learn and are such a lovely friend to everyone around you.

Europe

Lorenzo – For adapting to a new teacher so brilliantly and always doing your very best in every piece of learning you do. You truly are such a wonderful little boy and I feel so proud of you!

Charlie – Charlie, what an incredible role model you are to not only your peers, but your teachers too. Your attitude towards learning is just so wonderful and you make Europe Class such a special place to be.

Asia

Louis - For being so brilliant at managing your emotions. You are listening carefully, making safe choices, and following the choices that adults give you. I am so proud of you!

Max - For being such a wonderful friend and an excellent role model this week. You supported a peer who was feeling upset, showed beautiful sharing and turn-taking, and used kind words to help them feel better.

South America

Noah- For choosing a character and setting in your own traditional tale story. You tried hard to think of your own ideas and write independently. Well, done!

Jack- For using your super maths reasoning skills to answer questions in maths fluency. You also share interesting ideas during class discussions.

North America

Ruby – For making fantastic choices inside the classroom and on the playground and always trying your hardest in your learning.

Diego – For being safe and respectful in the classroom and always showing me that you are listening and ready to learn.
