INVESTING TIME WISELY

What impact could you have on learners' academic outcomes and well-being if you had more time? Does implementing the longer-term strategy get put on hold as you deal with the day's demands? Would you like to end the week feeling that you are more on top of your workload and ready for a relaxing weekend?

Teachers juggle many demands on their time: planning and teaching great lessons; marking; feedback; pastoral roles; talking to parents; meetings... School leaders face all the demands above plus many more.

To keep stress levels low and maintain job satisfaction, it's important that all teachers invest their time well. This workshop will help:

- ▶ Shift unhelpful common perceptions about time management
- ▶ Consider where most of your time and energy is currently committed
- ▶ Offer a systematic and practical approach to getting the most important things done.

Participants will leave with new ideas and strategies to implement immediately.

This session will take place on
Wednesday 11th January 2023
From 4.00 - 6.00pm
