

Making Sense of Autism

Autism Education Trust Training Schools Programme for professionals working across all education settings with pupils aged 5 – 16 years

AET is a nationally recognised programme whose aim is to share knowledge and good practice to a wider community

This includes teaching staff, governors and leaders

MAKING SENSE OF AUTISM

The making sense of autism training will give you a better understanding and awareness of autism and the way it affects pupils in school.

The training will support participants in:

- understanding the four key areas of developmental difference experienced by autistic pupils
- building and promoting positive relationships
- the importance of understanding the individual pupil and to build upon their strengths
- supporting pupil access to teaching and learning

The training uses a range of teaching tools to form an essential part of your continued professional development:

- Videos
- Strategies
- Presentations
- Resources
- Activities

This 90-minute session will be delivered remotely and is Free to Ealing maintained schools (£30 to out of borough/academy schools)
