RSJ link	Origins of Racial Inequality: The transatlantic slave trade was built on the belief that Africans were inferior to Europeans, and it reinforced harmful racial stereotypes. The system of racial hierarchy was created to justify slavery, and how those ideas of racial superiority/inferiority have persisted into modern times, fuelling systemic racism.		Overlooked Contributions: The contributions of over a million Indian soldiers (many of them Sikh) during both World Wars are often left out of mainstream narratives about the wars. This exclusion is a powerful example of historical erasure—where the roles of non-European soldiers are not given the recognition they deserve.
