

English lesson 3 LO: To write a non-chronological report

Task 1

We would like you to write a non-chronological report about an animal of your choice.

Use your plan to write your ideas into short paragraphs like we practised with the elephant and the panda.

Remember that non-chronological means that the information can be written in any order.

You must include a paragraph about each piece of key information.

Illustrate it with a labelled picture of your animal.

Task 2

See if someone can ask you some questions about your animal. Can you answer the questions using the report you have written?

These could be - What does your animal like to eat? What country does your animal come from?
