Adverse Weather Warning UPDATE
February 17th, 2022

Dear Parents and Carers,

The Director of Children's Services and Emergency Response teams across our local authorities have met today in regards to the updated severe weather warning which has now escalated to a rare red warning. This national red warning level advises all persons to stay at home tomorrow.

Therefore, in response to this, our Trust and the Local Authorities have advised schools accordingly to close and offer a remote education.

Therefore, we will be closing the school and all children will be able to access learning through our website.

We apologise for the additional demands this may place on you at short notice, but the Met office is clear this weather is extreme and we wish to ensure you and your children and our staff are safe.

Kind regards
Susannah Hill
Headteacher of the Federation
