The Kingsway School Foxland Key Messages

Welcome Address

Welcome back to the final week of this school year. Last week year 10 visits included Kenilworth Castle, Salford Quays and finished the week with students completing the Duke of Edinburgh expedition. It was also a pleasure to watch our student perform at the Showcase. Well done to everyone involved, your conduct exemplified our core values of opportunity, achievement, respect and compassion.

This week is busy with more Geography Field trips, this time to Edale. During the assembly this week we will be celebrating students who are demonstrating our core values of everyday. There is no slowing down this week, every lesson matters. Your attendance to school is just as important this week as any other week of the school year. The draw for the attendance hamper is taking place later this week. The only criteria to be entered is to be in school.

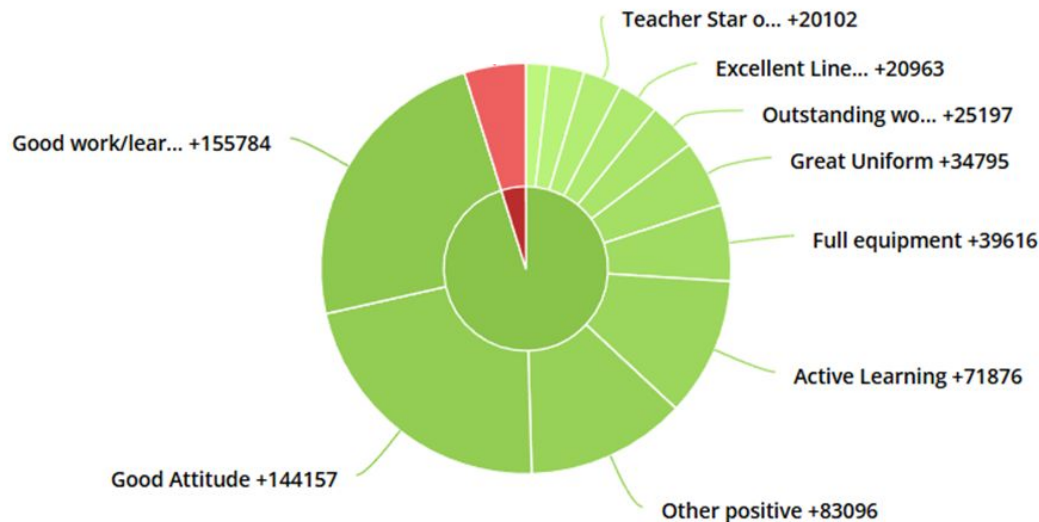

Over the summer break, enjoy time with your family and friends and return ready to work hard and prepare for your final race. Not only is this the last key message of the year but will be the last one from me. Mrs Roban will be supporting you on Foxland next year, I wish you every success that you deserve. Have a good week and a great summer.

Big Wins

Congratulations to all the Duke of Edinburgh (D of E) students who made it through their assessed expedition in the Peak District this weekend.

They showed huge determination, resilience, kindness towards each other in the searing heat.

Ending Year 10 positively

Please remember that we still have 27 lessons left of Year 10. This means there are 27 times to be Student/Teacher Star of the Lesson.

Top 5 tips for this week:

1. Use your learning time this week to consolidate key knowledge. What's stuck? What's a priority to revise?
2. Ask your subject teachers for support/guidance. Review your Essential Knowledge checklists for half-term 6. Are there any gaps?
3. Show kindness to your peers and teachers in lesson time.
4. Use your Progress Data as a starting point for your Year 11 Plan. What's your "Approach" data like?
5. Relax and enjoy your social times safely. You're nearly there.....

Onto the next chapter

- I want to take a moment to say how incredibly proud I am of all our Year 10 students. This year has brought many challenges, but what has stood out most is your consistent effort and determination to improve even if it's just by 1% each day. Those small gains add up, and over time, they build the foundation for real success. Your dedication to learning, your resilience in the face of obstacles, and your growth as individuals have been truly inspiring. Remember, progress isn't always about giant leaps, it's the small, steady steps that make all the difference. Keep focusing on those 1% improvements whether it's in your studies, your skills, or your attitude and you'll continue to move forward and achieve great things. I'm proud to be your Head of Year and excited to see where your hard work will take you next.
