

22nd April 2026

Dear parents and families,

We hope that you had restful Easter breaks with your families and loved ones.

We cannot think of a better way to begin the summer term than by sharing with our families the Ofsted Inspection Report which has been published today. This was a long awaited inspection for us as a school and we are incredibly proud to share the outcome with you now and explain what it means for our community and most importantly, for your children.

Our inspection took place at the beginning of the last half term as one of the first cohorts of schools under Ofsted's new inspection framework, which is significantly more rigorous and challenging. We very much welcomed the opportunity for the external scrutiny as a chance to show off who we are as a school and what it means to be a member of our school community.

As you will see in the attachment to this letter, and which can now be found on our website, the report recognises the significant work of our students and our staff and that our school is one where leaders have acted decisively to reset the culture and the ethos of the school. Inspectors saw relationships between students and staff that are warm and respectful in a school where pupils' experiences have been transformed since the last inspection and above all where pupils feel happy, settled and safe.

This achievement is, above all, a testament to our students, whose attitudes, conduct and care left a positive impression on inspectors throughout. It also reflects the dedication, care and compassion of our staff, who ensure that every pupil is well known as an individual, that any additional needs or barriers to learning are carefully understood, and that all students benefit from thoughtfully considered pastoral support.

We extend our sincere thanks to you, our parents and carers, for the trust you continue to place in us and for the strength of the partnership we share in educating and nurturing your children. Inspectors recognised the significance of this relationship, and the report reflects the collective effort that has shaped the school's journey in recent years—one marked by meaningful and sustained improvement across all areas.

ACHIEVING SUCCESS AND TRANSFORMING LIVES THROUGH COMPASSION, COMMUNITY AND CURRICULUM

It is our hope that this report affirms your confidence in TKS as a place where your child is both inspired to learn and supported to achieve, as a valued member of a compassionate community in which every pupil knows they have a voice.

We are incredibly proud of our school and grateful to be working in partnership with you to support your child's successes.

Thank you, as always, for your continued support.
