‘Learning by Caring and Sharing’

SEND Information Report

Our Ethos/ Vision

At The Meadows Primary school we are committed to giving all our children every opportunity to achieve their full potential. The achievement, attitude and well-being of every child matters and inclusion is the responsibility of everyone within our school. Every teacher is a teacher of every pupil, including those with special educational needs and disabilities. We respect the unique contribution which every individual can make to our school community. "Learning through caring and sharing" is our school motto which we all commit to.

Definition of SEN and Disability (SEND) At our school we use the definition for SEN and for disability from the SEND Code of Practice (2014). This states:

SEN: A child or young person has special educational needs if he or she has a learning difficulty or disability which calls for special educational provision to be made for him or her. A learning difficulty or disability is a significantly greater difficulty in learning than the majority of others of the same age. Special educational provision means educational or training provision that is additional to, or different from, that made generally for others of the same age in a mainstream setting in England.

Disability: Many children and young people who have SEN may have a disability under the Equality Act 2010 - that is "...a physical or mental impairment which has a long-term and substantial adverse effect on their ability to carry out normal day-to-day activities."

Questions you may wish to ask

How does the school know if pupils need extra help and what should you do if you think that your child may have special educational needs?

- Under the Children and Families' act 2014 young children with SEN (whose needs are at a high level and meet criteria) will be supported by a new single education, health and care plan (EHCP) from birth to 25 years. The local authority will be responsible for arranging admission to school. The authority will work with you as a parent/carer and seek your views in the provision best suited to your child. As a parent you have the right to express your preferences. The authority must consider your views carefully taking into account the child's special educational needs and provision required to meet them. There will be times when a place at your preferred school will not be provided. If this happens the authority will explain why and an alternative offer will be made.

- Prior to your child starting school the SENCO will visit pre-school settings.
- Home visits will be carried out by EYFS teacher and SENCO.
- There is an induction evening for new parents, led by EYFS team and SENCO.
- If a child has an EHCP, a support assistant will be allocated as soon as possible and introduced before a child starts school.
- Extended visits to Reception Class are planned in summer term before the new cohort starts.
- A process of on-going teacher assessments and termly pupil progress meetings with the leadership team identifies those pupils making less than expected progress given their age and individual circumstances. The school's first response is high quality targeted teaching by the class teacher. Where progress continues to be less than expected, the class teacher will discuss their concerns with the SENCO. In deciding whether to make special educational provision, the teacher and SENCO will consider all of the information gathered from within the school about the pupil's progress, alongside the views of parents/carers and pupil. During this stage extra teaching or interventions may be put in place as a pupil's response to such support can help to identify their needs.
- Care is taken when identifying and assessing SEN for children whose first language is not English.
- Where pupils have higher levels of need, and with parental permission, the school may to seek advice from external agencies.

Do you have a particular question about your child's particular need?

- Parents/carers can contact the SENCO - Mrs K Davies by telephone 01782 750313 or by email karyna.davies@meadowsprimary.shaw-education.org.uk
