

23rd May 2022 (updated from letter sent 20.05.2022)

Dear All,

Autism Voice Career Workshops updates: A group of students started the jewellery making sessions on Monday. They learned skills in assembling jewellery and using tools safely. The work we be on sale at the end of term at an Autism Voice event which you will be invited to. Some other students also attended the cake decorating session where they made a sponge cake and decorated it in fondant icing using specialist cutters.

Natspec Health Check: We had an associate from Natspec – National Association of specialist colleges visit us on Tuesday. Natspec is the member association for organisations which offer specialist further education and training for students with learning difficulties and/or disabilities. They offer advice on the next steps of the college development. She was really impressed by how the students welcomed her and what she saw. I wanted to say thank you to all the students. She joined in some parts of the training programme and went to visit 2 of our work placements – Kata Kata and Maloko in Camberwell, seeing how the students learned independence on their travel training and within the work place settings. She will visit us again on 6th June.

Queen’s Jubilee Reminder: On the last day of half term – next Friday 27th May 2022, we will have a small jubilee celebration. Staff and students can wear anything red, white or blue if they would like to. Please do join us in the Coffee Shop from 1:30 – 2 pm for tea and cakes.

Half Term Reminder: We will be closed from Monday 30th May to Friday 3rd June 2022. The first day back will be Monday 6th June 2022, with our last day of the summer holidays on Thursday 14th July 2022.

Free Cricket matches -Oval Cricket Ground: Please see letter and link on the next page regarding accessing free tickets to cricket matches at the Oval. It is open to all students.

College times Reminder: Please encourage independent travellers to plan their journeys to arrive after 8:45am. College starts at 9am for all.

Health and safety: All students need to wear long trousers and footwear that covers their feet when working in The Coffee Shop.

Yours sincerely,

Catriona Guyler-Kone

Acting Principal

Thanks for attending our recent Disability Day at the Kia Oval.

As a thanks for attending we would like to offer you the chance to come and attend either of 2 x upcoming T20 cricket matches which are happening over the half term break ahead of the Jubilee weekend.
