

24th June 2022

Dear all,

Students who took part in the cake decorating and jewellery making workshops with Autism Voice should have received their certificates. Well done to them. The jewellery is for sale in the café. I am afraid the delicious cakes have all gone!

We had an introduction morning for new parents and students who will start with us in September. It was lovely to meet them. Six new Students will take part in a transition programme for the next 3 Mondays getting to know each other and the college. The current students really welcomed them which was lovely to see.

Please see some information that was given to us from Team London which may be of interest:

Team London Young Ambassadors

We would like to pass on some information regarding a programme being delivered this summer to young people aged 16 – 20 (up to 25 with a special educational need and/or disability) in London. Young people will be equipped with employability skills and the opportunity to elevate their voices and dismantle social injustices via youth-led workshops on photography, art, music production and spoken word. Workshops will take place from 1st August – 11th August at The Empowerment Centre, 18 – 24 Lower Clapton Road, Hackney. Lunch and refreshments will be provided and we will reimburse travel costs. They are asking young people to book a place via emailing tlya@volunteeringmatters.org.uk or by registering their interest via this form https://forms.office.com/Pages/ResponsePage.aspx?id=RI7moRJ77kqULnLUi60mfwhhrK6d3d1LgQ_fv5LH_KxUQjRQNIIdRRTFIQIIQVVA3MIFIUTY2TzFEQS4u

For young people that are unsure about joining the two week programme they can attend one of their taster sessions to see what it will entail. These will take place on:

- Monday 25th July – Photography and Art 12 – 3pm
- Tuesday 26th July – Music & Spoken word 12 – 3pm
- Wednesday 27th July – Employability skills with Making the Leap 12 – 3pm

Yours sincerely,

Catriona Guyler-Kone
