Key Facts

Phil Dean, also known as the Shoreditch Sketcher is a London-based artist, illustrator, and educator specialising in expressive urban sketching.

He lives in East London and he spends much of his time capturing the character, architecture, and everyday rhythm of the city. London is a constant source of inspiration for me, but my sketchbooks also document travels to places like Florence, Paris, San Francisco, and Málaga.

At the heart of everything he does is a focus on storytelling—slowing down, look more closely, and experience the world through drawing.

Phil tries to draw every day, even if it's something simple. He says it's about keeping that rhythm going—staying connected to the act of drawing and to the world around him.
