

Share your experience in the annual SEND survey

Residents of North East Lincolnshire are being asked to share their experiences of services for children and young people with special educational needs and disabilities (SEND) in the area.

The SEND Annual survey helps North East Lincolnshire Council to see what is working and how services can improve to meet the needs of the users.

Parents and children will have another year of new experiences to share and may have been involved with new services in the borough.

Councillor Margaret Cracknell, portfolio holder for children and education at North East Lincolnshire Council, said:

“The SEND Annual Survey is crucial to informing what services are available in our patch and what those services offer.

“It’s an opportunity for us to learn from the experiences of those who have used our services.

“I would urge parents to take a look at the survey and share their experiences so we can continue to improve.”

These surveys are for families with children who have, or feel they have, special educational needs or a disability.
