Embedded within the curriculum

Life skills, employability skills, functional skills and vocational vocabulary are all embedded within the curriculum across all key stages.

CASE STUDY

Curriculum Learning

'J' chose Food Preparation and Nutrition as one of his options. He enjoys learning practical skills during lessons.

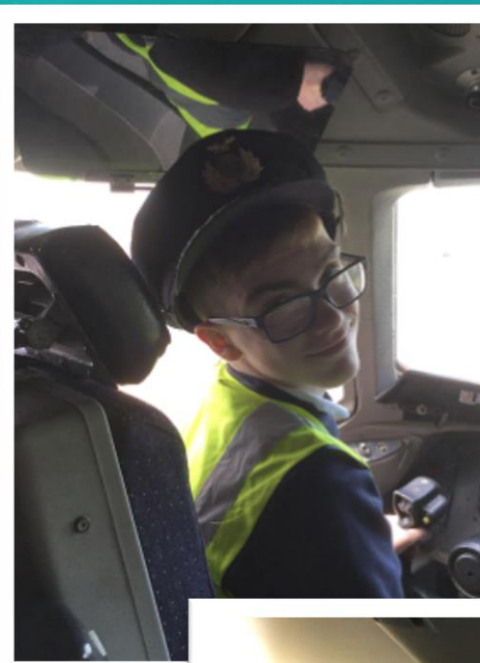

"I enjoy sorting the ingredients and eating the food! It helps me make things like blueberry muffins, and helps me use my hand. I will be able to cook for myself when I leave school."

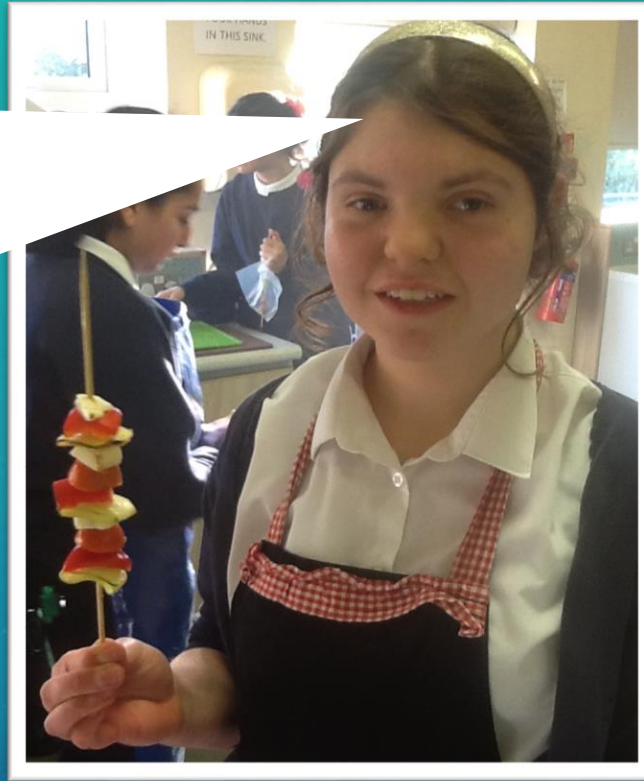

Employer Encounters

Opportunities to learn from employers about work, They can happen either in or outside of school. Activities usually take place as enrichment activities within the curriculum. For example when learning about 'People who help us', within PSCHE, students were able to speak to Police and ask them about their work.

Additional encounters across KS3 & KS4 have included:
Fire Service | Rossendale Leisure Trust | Rossendale Golf Club
Cheese Factory | Mather Art Gallery | Manchester Airport

“The visit from Chef Ade helped me understand more about working in a kitchen”

CASE STUDY Employer Encounter

‘L’ goes to Haslingden High School to study Food Technology. Chef Ade visited her Food Preparation & Nutrition lesson at Tor View to talk about and help the students cook Seafood. Students were also able to ask him questions about his work and experiences.
