There is a Maths homework sheet set on Abacus. This does not need to be printed and returned to school but I will be checking to see that it is being done. The answers are provided.

There is also a game to play if they would like to do this or you could try 'hit the button' <https://www.topmarks.co.uk/maths-games/hit-the-button> where there is a game to help familiarise with number bonds. They could try bonds to 20, within 20 and to 100 as they get more confident.
