Student Work Experience Summer 2023

OPEN TO THE RELEVANT YEARS

Year 10 Work Experience Insights with Sobha Sandhu at Boeing Aviation Services

For my Year 10 work experience, I worked at Boeing Aviation Services in Welwyn Garden City. Each day I would catch the train from Potters' Bar to Welwyn Garden City and spend a couple of hours in each department such as Structural Repair Engineering or Illustrations, talking to people about what they do within Boeing and sometimes even getting to do their job.

I found this especially interesting as I had always viewed piloting as a job restricted to those who can afford to spend countless hours flying before beginning their training, however learned on the placement that airlines are willing to sponsor potential candidates based on their unique personal skillsets and additional qualifying factors.

Something that surprised me was the intensity of the training and how competitive it is to become a qualified pilot, which sounds especially challenging, despite the fact it is a very well-paid and sociable job. After spending lots of time discussing my future plans, I still have not completely decided what I want to do, however working in the aviation industry gave me an insight into what sort of jobs I could do if I continue my sciences studies pathway.

Year 10 Work Experience Insights with Naomi Hagger at The Metropolitan Police

It was a great week of exploring different police facilities such as local police stations in Southall and Acton as well as the police training centres in Hendon and New Scotland Yard. Throughout the week, we received an in-depth insight into different jobs, exploring sectors in Forensics and specialist units such as the Territorial Support Group and many more.

We also had the opportunity to meet and interview some very important people such as Commander Dr Alison Heydari. Scheduled for one of the days was the chance to visit the police training, dispatch and control centre where we got to take part in police call handler exercises and meet people in the job. I thoroughly enjoyed the week and would strongly recommend the Year 10 placement to anyone interested in the works of the police and emergency services.

Year 12 Work Experience Insights with Angel Fearon at IBM Technologies & Vodafone (where Angel was the recipient of a full Scholarship Award)

Last summer I had the opportunity to visit IBM for work experience. As I am applying to study Computer Science next year at university, it was really useful to attend talks about innovations in Robotics (alongside a live demonstration of Spot, which is an industrial remote controlled robot) and the Mayflower Research Vessel which uses AI to collect data across the Atlantic. It also gave me practical insight into the world of work and how to perform well in a group interview.

I also took part in the digital camp with Vodafone. This week-long camp was an amazing opportunity for me to expand my programming skillset in Python and also get an introduction to Electronic Engineering using the Raspberry Pi Pico. I had the opportunity to gain career advice from tech industry experts and work as a group to design and present a product that uses tech to solve a problem relating to climate change.
