Dear Parents and Carers

As you may be aware, 2024 saw our outcomes continue to improve and attendance hit new highs. We have had a range of other improvements across the school, and it was pleasing to see these recognised in the body of the recent OFSTED report.

We now look to continue to build on these positive developments and I am pleased to announce that, on this next stage of the schools journey, it will be led by our new Head of School, Mrs McNamee. Our previous Head, Mr Mee, has decided to move on to fresh challenges. We thank him for his service and wish him well.

Now is the time to look forward and I know that Mrs McNamee and all the school staff are excited to do so. We all understand the important part we play in the community and that all our children are entitled to a high-quality academic education in a caring environment. This is what we will work to achieve in the detailed work we do every day.

Mrs McNamee is an experienced headteacher who has worked with the Trust and at the school for the last 22 months, playing a vital part in our drive towards excellence. I know her standards, her commitment and her skills and I am confident that she will ensure our next steps are positive ones that will benefit your child and serve our community.

Mrs McNamee will write to you in due course to introduce herself and set out some of her objectives. In the meantime, I appreciate your continued support.

Kind regards

Mike Kilbride
