

UJS Year 3 Recommended Reading List

Here is a selection of some excellent books on a number of wide ranging topics that will feed your interest in reading. We hope you enjoy reading something you may not have normally chosen, and please let us know what you think of them or let us know some books, you've read, that we could add to our list.

Please remember that the local libraries will stock many of these, as does the school library. If you are not sure which one to pick, then inform your decision by taking a look at www.lovereading4kids.co.uk. You will often be able to download the first chapter, or at least an extract, for free, which will give you an idea as to whether you will like the book. You can also read reviews written by children of most of these books.

Remember you do not just need to leave your reading to school! The more reading you do, the more you will learn. You will also become a better speller and you will understand grammar terms more easily!

Read every day for at least 15 minutes and make sure you record this in your Reading Record. 😊

"The more you read
the more things you know.
The more that you learn
the more places you'll go."
-Dr. Seuss

Try these places to read: in the bath, in the garden, when you are travelling, in front of a cosy fire... the list is endless.
