Dear Parents and Carers...

The first full week ticked off!

Everything seems to have gone pretty smoothly here (well, relatively!) so thank you, as always, for your support in helping the children get back into the swing of things...or just get into the swing if you're Nursery or Reception!

Please come and find us if you need owt, and have a lovely weekend...from us all at UPS

Keep talking to us about pick-up

We have had a couple of incidents already where parents have needed to change arrangements at the end of the day, meaning that the children will need to go to after-school clubs, or no longer need to. Please let us know if things change so that the handovers run smoothly! Many thanks!

Author Visit

We are very excited to announce that the brilliant author Marie Basting will be coming to our school to talk about her new book, Auntie Medusa and Me on Thursday 17th October 2024.

'An action-packed, laugh-out-loud funny Greek mythology adventure.

'I'm Silvia, an ordinary kid just like you. At least, I was ordinary until I wound up in Ancient Rome and found out I'm a demigoddess. Yeah, that took me by surprise too. But seriously, travelling back in time is nothing compared to what's happening now.'

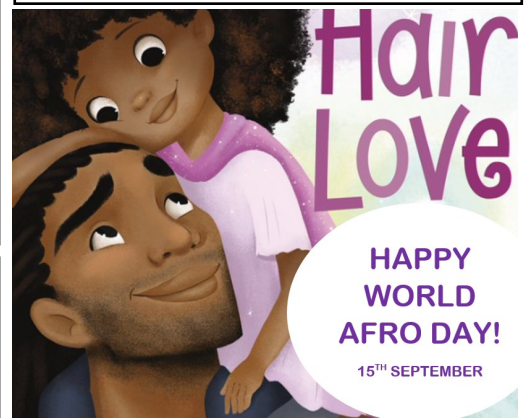

Medusa the gorgon wants her head back – and she's chosen me to find it!'

Urmston Bookshop is providing copies of Marie's books, - and your child will be able to get their book signed by Marie and be able to say hi and have a short chat.

If you would like your child to buy a book, please complete Parent Pay by Friday 11th October, paying for the book / books you wish to purchase.

PTA AGM

Our PTA AGM is on Wednesday straight after school. Please join us and consider the massive difference you can make to our school community!

Happy World Afro Day.!

At UPS we celebrate the natural hair-styles of our pupils and embrace what makes us unique. #worldafroday #rightsrespectingschools #article2

Library Service!

The library in the KS2 building will be open for parents and children to visit together after school on Tuesdays. The wonderful Mrs. Morton will be there to assist.!

Parent Pact

You may have become aware of this from the Smartphone Free Childhood 'movement'. We are all aware of some of the benefits of screens, but can probably all agree that smartphones are extremely addictive and not massively beneficial to children at primary level. Perhaps take a look...

Earrings

Can parents please be mindful of earrings. Studs are allowed but must be covered, with tape if necessary, for PE. We hear of many horror stories and don't want to be part of one!

NUTS!

Please be reminded that we are a nut free school and be as vigilant as you can when doing the packed lunches and junior snacks! Thank you very much!

Supporting Autistic Girls

Build to beat Cancer!

Alma, a parent at our school, is fundraising for the 'Build to Beat Breast Cancer' Appeal, a new breast screening diagnostic unit to be built at Wythenshawe hospital to allow early detection. She is doing this by doing various bonkers and extreme challenges, including trekking up Mount Kilimanjaro next year and also the London Marathon. She has a huge target of 8k overall. Any support is obviously greatly appreciated so take a look at the link below! A special shout-out too to our Vivienne, who has been a great help, always supporting the challenges, helping with various costumes, making bracelets to sell, bucket collections at events, all sorts...what a star you are Vivienne!

BEING MORE...

Being More still remains a core part of our culture in school. Our children's behaviour is good, but we want them all to go that extra mile in displaying our school values and helping others to be happy through their kindness, respect and responsibility. Please let us know what your children get up to outside school so we can share and celebrate in school!

Over the summer, Edith showed us what it is all about. After growing her hair for about two years, it was finally long enough for her to have it cut off to be donated to the Little Princess Trust, to be made into a real hair wig for children who have lost their own hair, through cancer treatment and other illness. Lots of people, including parents at UPS, were so kind to donate to her fundraiser (<https://www.justgiving.com/page/jayne-meyrick>). Super being more, Edith!

Forest School...with the Nebula Centre...starting at UPS soon...!

Forest School Ethos

The Forest School ethos is to provide a safe, nurturing and supportive community. Everyone learns in different ways and paces and Forest School is a place for them to do that without judgement or expectations. This has a positive impact on social and emotional development and well-being, which helps children to, not only learn, but thrive in their learning process. Through various different activities and challenges, children are given the opportunity to build up resilience and determination skills through their 'failures', whilst developing self-esteem through their successes.

Being child-led, and long term, Forest School allows children to build on the tasks they choose. Giving children the autonomy to do this, and allowing them to keep going back to a task that they are finding difficult, rather than putting time constraints on them, helps children to understand that learning is a process rather than a result and heightens their emotional intelligence. Whilst they might initially 'fail' at a skill, need extra help or lots of practice to master it, they will eventually succeed, boosting confidence, self-worth and allowing them to see that persistence is key to achievement. In turn, this allows the child to become less frustrated, more self aware and able to self regulate. Their empathy towards others, who might be struggling, grows whilst their social skills develop through play and learning.

As well as providing the perfect environment for physical development, Forest School also allows children to develop into creative and independent learners through the connection with nature. Children learn best through play and first hand experiences. Due to being child-led, children at Forest School are able to direct themselves through their learning, whilst adults become observants.

A child who is fully in 'flow' at a Forest School session, is directing themselves through their learning process, whilst being fully submerged in the experience. During the 'flow', children will naturally ask themselves questions and set out to find the answers "What will happen if I put this stone in the bucket?", "Why is this tree growing faster than this one?" Children are natural scientists and Forest School allows their 'what ifs', not only developing their knowledge, imagination and creativity, but also, by allowing children autonomy over the topics they want to learn, whilst giving them the freedom to explore and experiment within them, encourages them to become independent learners.

We must have perseverance and above all confidence in ourselves.

Every little helps, guys...or is that the wrong supermarket?

Parenting Smart

We all want the best for our children, but parenting can be really tough sometimes. We've all been there.

Place2Be's Parenting Smart is a site for parents and carers of 4-11 year olds, offering practical advice on supporting your child and managing behaviour.

All of our content is created by Place2Be's parenting experts. It's based on evidence and their experiences working with children, young people and their families.

Designed with busy parents in mind, the site has short videos and articles on topics from meltdowns to bullying, from sleeping difficulties to encouraging self-confidence.
