Urmston Primary School

Dear Parents and Carers,
Have a lovely weekend,
From us all at UPS

We've been speaking to our children this week about neurodiversity and what it means. They have shown tremendous understanding of what it is and how important it is to acknowledge and celebrate each other's strengths and uniqueness. We looked at inspirational people who have autism, ADHD, dyslexia, dyspraxia, Tourette's and talked about the strengths that these can give people alongside the challenges that we face. We talked about how all of our brains are unique and that we should always be kind, understanding and non-judgemental about other people's behaviour. We're so proud of the way that our children approach this, and we're sure you are too.

Go Elsie!

A massive well done to Elsie! She has certainly been more outside of school and has shown a level of skill, dedication and potential to be signed by Manchester City for the 26-27 season! Great stuff Elsie...we all so proud of you!

Eid Mubarak to all of our Muslim friends and families! We wish you all joy, peace and spiritual well-being at this special time.

International Day of Happiness is a UN recognised day, to promote happiness and wellbeing. It is a chance for us all to realise that happiness is not only a personal feeling but a global goal, for everyone. We'll never all be happy and it can often seem hard to just help ourselves reach this goal. But we can all do our bit, choosing connection, starting with being kind to ourselves and letting it spread from there...

WINNERS!

Huge congratulations to our football team on their historic achievement as newly crowned league champions! This victory marks the first time our school has secured the title, a milestone earned through months of unwavering dedication and hard work. Throughout the season, the players displayed remarkable grit in the face of tough competition, proving that their success was built on a foundation of exceptional teamwork. A special shout-out goes to our team captain, Elliott, whose outstanding leadership and composure under pressure guided the squad to this landmark win. We are immensely proud of the entire team and the exemplary way they represented our school community.

Great stuff, Mr Irakoze!

MUSIC AND ME...

This is something so very special that we just had to share...Barney's (Y5!) entry to the Lowry creative writing competition. Genuinely amazing, Barney...

Music and Me

*Music is a tsunami,
A wave that invigorates,
Its force pulses through me,
With every beat of the drum.*

*Music is a warm summer evening,
Comforting me like a golden sunset,
Its tranquillity decreases the volume of my busy mind,
Drowning out the negative voices trilling tunelessly in my head.*

*Music is my best mate,
A shoulder to cry on,
It will always be there to support me,
Even when my resilience has hit the floor.*

*Music is a pebble,
Thrown into a still, peaceful lake,
Its presence: a ripple of creativity,
Even in the dullest of times.*

Music is a memory box:

*Those festival nights where you stayed up raving,
Chaotic birthday parties where everyone sings in unison,
And where just a single riff
takes you back to those special moments in time.*

*Music is in my core,
Its melody pumps through my veins,
It pulses through my heart,
Nourishing me more with every crotchet, minim and quaver.*

Music is my life.

Can you help?

Top Tips for... MANAGING SCREEN TIME

According to the latest stats, people aged between 8 and 17 spend four hours on digital devices during an average day. Obviously, a new year is ideal for fresh starts and renewed efforts – so lots of families are trying to cut down their combined screen time right now, creating more moments to connect with each other and relying less on gadgets to have fun. Our top tips on reducing screen time are for everyone, so you can get your whole family involved in turning over a new leaf this year!

BUY MILK

GET OUT AND ABOUT

If the weather's decent, spend some time in the garden or go for a walk. Even a stroll to the local shop would do: the main thing is getting some fresh air and a break from your screen.

TRY A TIMED TRIAL

When you're taking a screen break to do a different activity or a chore, turn it into a game by setting yourself a timer. Can you complete your task before the alarm goes off?

GO DIGITAL DETOX

Challenge yourself and your family to take time off from screens, finding other things to do. You could start off with half a day, then build up to a full day or even an entire weekend.

LEAD BY EXAMPLE

Let your family see you successfully managing your own screen time. You'll be showing them the way, and it might stop some of those grumbles when you do want to go online.

AGREE TECH-FREE ZONES

Nominate some spots at home where devices aren't allowed. Anywhere your family gathers together, like at the table or in the living room, could become a 'no phone zone'.

HOLD A SCREEN TIME AMNESTY

As a family, agree specific windows when it's OK to use devices. This should help everyone to balance time on phones or gaming with enjoying quality moments together.

BE MINDFUL OF TIME

Stay aware of how long you've been on your device for. Controlling how much time you spend in potentially stressful areas of the internet – like social media platforms – can also boost your wellbeing.

'PARK' PHONES OVERNIGHT

Set up an overnight charging station for everyone's devices – preferably away from bedrooms. That means less temptation for late-night scrolling.

SWITCH ON DND

Research shows that micro-distractions like message alerts and push notifications can chip away at our concentration levels. Put devices on 'do not disturb' until you're less busy.

TAKE A FAMILY TECH BREAK

Set aside certain times when the whole family puts their gadgets away and enjoys an activity together: playing a board game, going for a walk or just having a chat.

SOCIALISE WITHOUT SCREENS

When you're with friends, try not to automatically involve phones, TVs or other tech. Having company can be loads more fun if your attention isn't being split.

WIND DOWN PROPERLY

Try staying off phones, consoles, tablets and so on just before you go to sleep. Reading or just getting comfy in bed for a while can give you a much more restful night.

FRAGILE MINDS: RETHINKING SMARTPHONES AND THE DEVELOPING BRAIN

While watching my children play in the snow last week, I saw my son trying to force a carrot into the frozen head of his snowman, and it struck me, our brains are a lot like that. Have you tried learning a new skill as an adult? It's slow and frustrating, like forcing a vegetable into ice. But children learn with such ease because their brains are like soft, fresh snow. Malleable and ready to form new pathways.

The beauty of the snow gave us all a reason to be present-to sledge, build, and simply appreciate. It was a pull to get outside, to connect with the world around us. Sadly, though, the virtual world is increasingly becoming a stronger temptation than real, active play. When we allow children unrestricted access to the internet, social media, or inappropriate games, we risk shaping their neural pathways in ways that can become fixed. The instant gratification of scrolling through endless videos conditions their brains to prioritise quick rewards over deeper engagement. Modern childhood is losing the time and space for imagination and exploration, replaced by screens that steal their focus and limit their potential. By setting boundaries now, we allow their minds to grow in ways that foster creativity, resilience, and meaningful connections. Just as snowflakes are unique, so too are our children's developing minds. We aren't powerless in this journey. By making thoughtful choices and sticking together, we can help shape a future where our children thrive.
