

Diary entry as the old man

Dear diary,

Today has been an awful day! I was walking in the busy park alone when something terrible happened.

I had my soft, cuddly teddy tucked safely under my arm as I ambled along the winding path. Then, I put him on an old park bench while I looked for something. When I went to leave, I left my beloved teddy on the old, rickety bench and started to walk back home. Suddenly, I realised what I had done! I ran back to the wooden bench but he was gone. Where could he be? I felt heartbroken that he was gone and I didn't know to do. I sat down on the cold, wooden bench and began to cry.
