Subject: Request for a trip to the Amazon Rainforest

Dear Mr. Lee,

I am writing to request you to send Year 6 on a trip to the Amazon Rainforest. I know you are the best head teacher so you will must agree am I correct? But anyway I will still tell you the reason of why I chose the Amazon Rainforest.

First of all, the children are now learning about animal and weather in the rainforest, so I think its a good chance for them to learn more about it. They can see real rainforest, such as snakes and monkeys, in addition they can also ~~know~~<sup>learn</sup> the habitate<sup>animals</sup> of animals by looking them.

Secored, they are all exhausted by learning a long long time, I think a trip will relax them and make them ready for the new things that they are going to learn. Emagen that you work for a hole year with no break would you want a trip? The student will want to have a trip too. Also they can learn while having fun, aren't it a good idea?

Last but not least, they are going to take care themselves in there trip so this is a good chance for them to learn it, children in now aday always need their parents to help them for things like tiding there chose. And they can try to live in wet and bad weather place. It is a thing that year 6 must have so they will learn it.

If you agree, I will be as happy as a champion of world cup. <sup>to have news</sup>

Hope you can think hard about it and bring me a good news..

Your Sincerely,

Her big break start for years later when she ask to take part in an England team camp alongside future world heavyweight champion David Haye in 2001. She was called up to box for her country not long afterwards and never looked back. In 2015 she became an Ambassador of Fight for Peace, an organisation which helps young people develop skills to stop violence in the communities where they live.

Quotes

I'm like a 'comeback kid' - you can't keep me down for long!

Nicola Adams

I am surrounded by silence.

I am lost

Lonely

Fearful

Suddenly 31 pair of eyes were staring at me

My heart were bubbling like soda

My face were red like apple

Whispers echoed around me.

My mind suddenly go blank

I step out of the comfort zone

And go on a trip of fear

Every thing were unknown

There is no horse for me to ride to freedom

The wolf of nervous is chasing me round my mind

I am not like others

Every thing is going different

I am climbing on a rope of terryfy

Timid

Confusion

Anxiety

But most of all:

Lonely

My eagles of sympathy were going

My futures were full of unknown but at least I have

Hope

★ At 12 at in the <sup>morning</sup> ~~evening~~ two men decided to ~~meet~~ meet... "Where is it?" he said. "Tim <sup>had</sup> muttered to him self "oh here he is." that old fool is in good day light.

"Ello there." Tim called from outside the stable. "Hello..." replied the Highwayman as he got off his horse.

"Look, I know ya bringing Bess along with ya?" Shouted Tim. "Ya can't deny can ya?" "No." The highwayman said "all I want to do is rob one more horse, then I can live an honest life."

"Ya disgust me!" replied Tim hoping that the Highwayman would fall off a cliff. "You watch her all of the time." said Tim with blood-shot eyes. "So you should stop, you literally know what her daily routine is."

"So?" whispered the Highwayman with a shrug. "I love her eyes and her..."

"And watching her every move." Tim said with a deluge grin plastered on his face.

"That's it I am leaving!" the Highwayman scowled jumping onto his horse and riding away. "Wow! Ya just gonna go and leave me alone... with Bess!" Tim shouted to the Highwayman with a gleeful look on his face.

★ The highway man turns around, comes back and says "Take That, Bess."

"No." Tim replies

"Why?" says the Highwayman

"Why not?" Tim replies

"I hate you." Highwayman says.

"I know," says the ostler trying to unlock the stable's door to escape the man's death.
