Key teaching point:		In contractions, the apostrophe shows where a letter or letters would be if the words were written in full.	In contractions, the apostrophe shows where a letter or letters would be if the words were written in full.	If a suffix starts with a consonant letter, it is added on to most root words without changes to the last letter of those words. Exception: Root words ending in -y (happy/happily) with a consonant before it, but only if the root word has more than one syllable.	If a suffix starts with a consonant letter, it is added on to most root words without changes to the last letter of those words Exception: Root words ending in -y (beauty/beautiful) with a consonant before it, but only if the root word has more than one syllable.	The letters tion represent the sound 'shun'. They often appear at the end of words of more than one syllable.
