LO: To explore different ways to start sentences.

Can you uplevel this boring story using better sentence openers?

There was a boy called Peter who went to the park. He saw a notice about the fair. He went home and told his mother about it.

“It looks like fun” he said to his Mum.
“Would you like to go?” said his Mum.
“Yes” said Peter.

They went to the fair and it was fun. Peter went to the ghost train, then on the waltzer, then the merry – go-round. Then Peter went on the coconut shy. He wanted to win a coconut but he didn’t win one.

Using the myth of Pandora’s Box as a basis, can you write a sentence using each of the ISPACED openers? E.g- Shaking, Pandora grasped the box with both hands.
