

SUBJECT ON A PAGE:

Latin

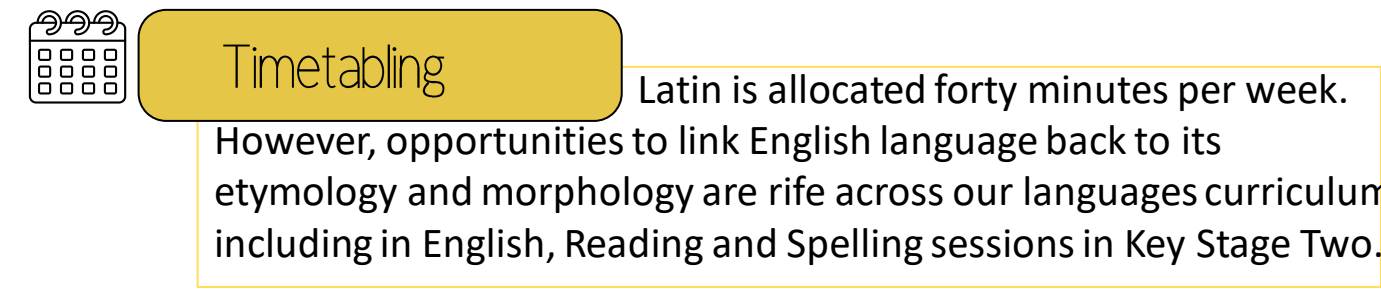

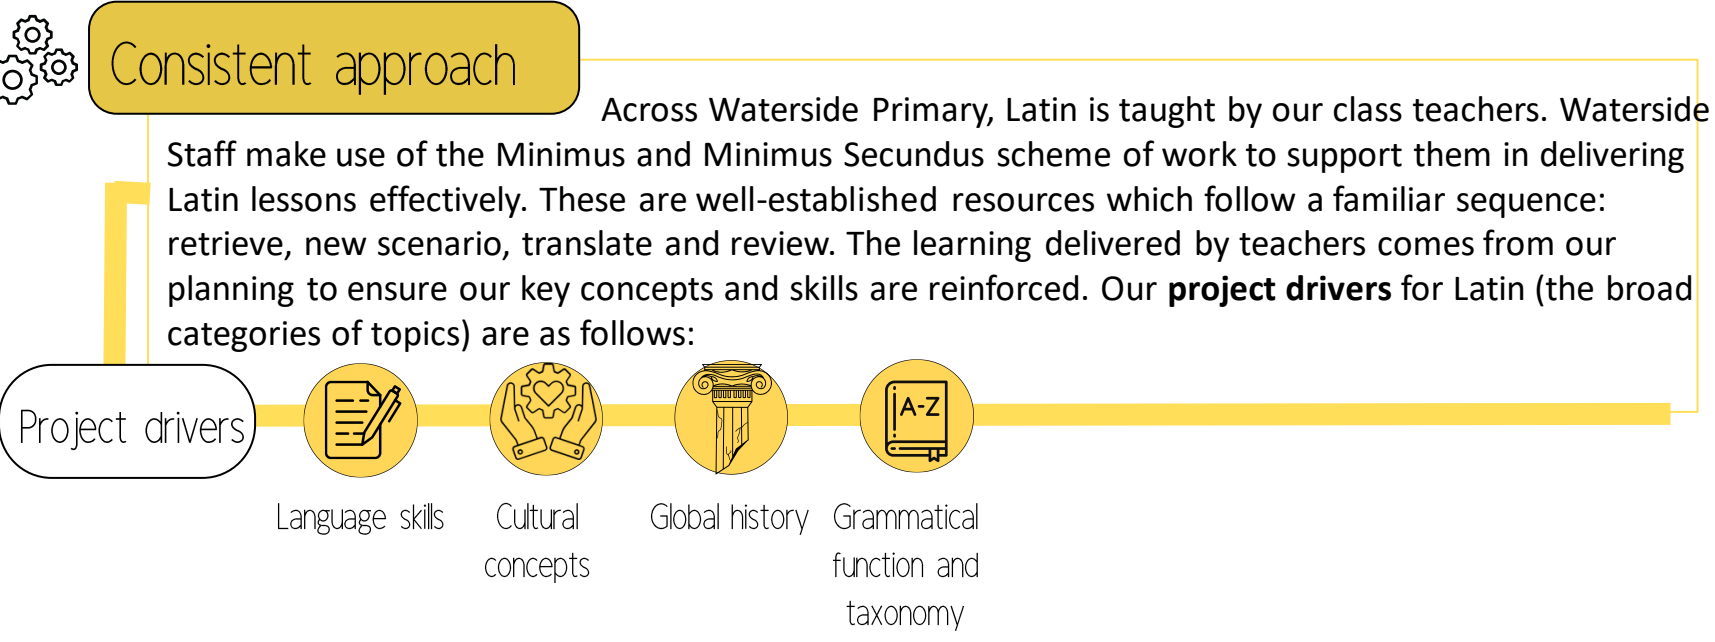

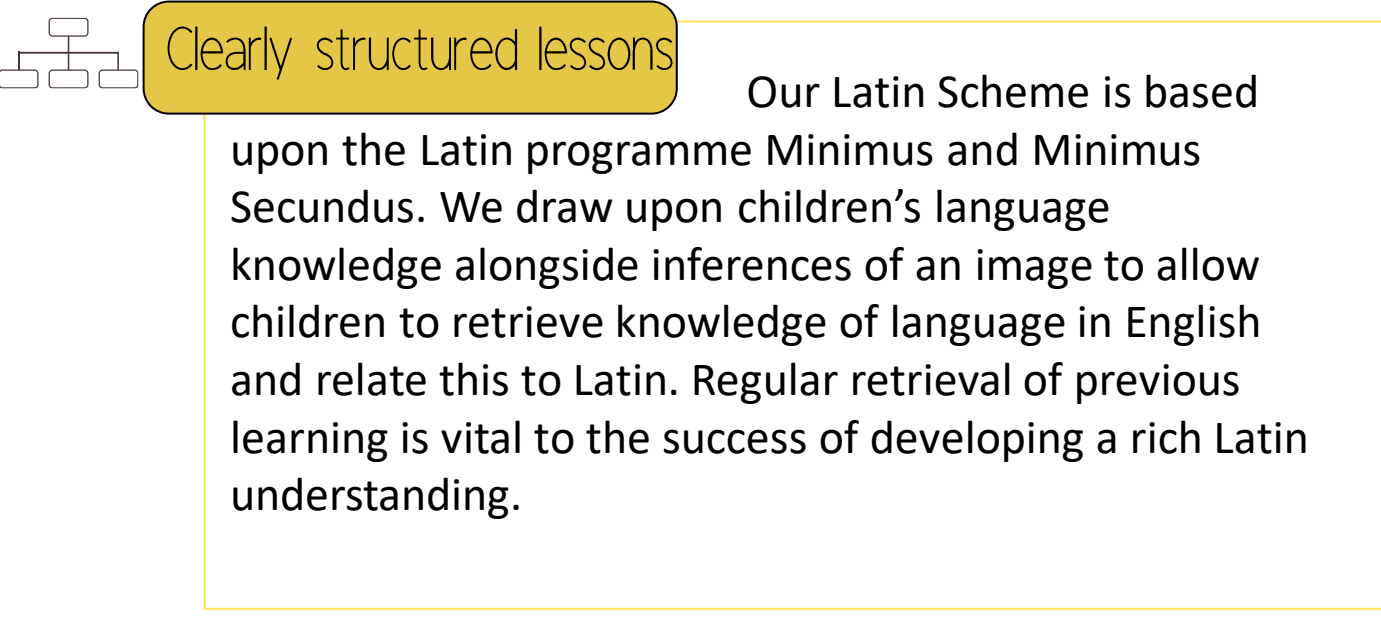

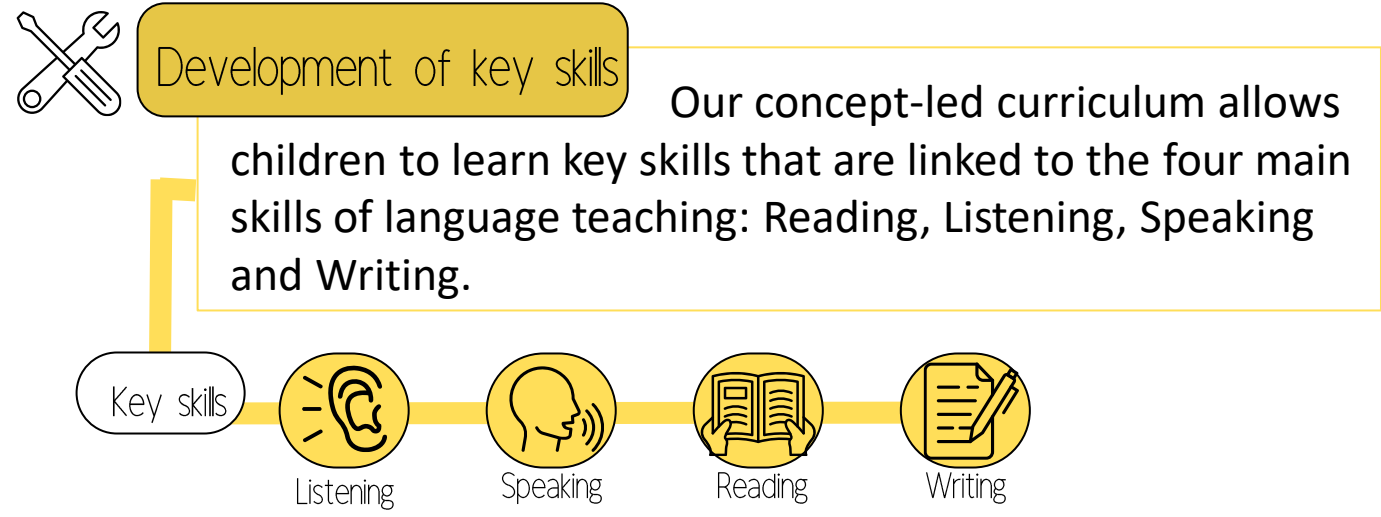

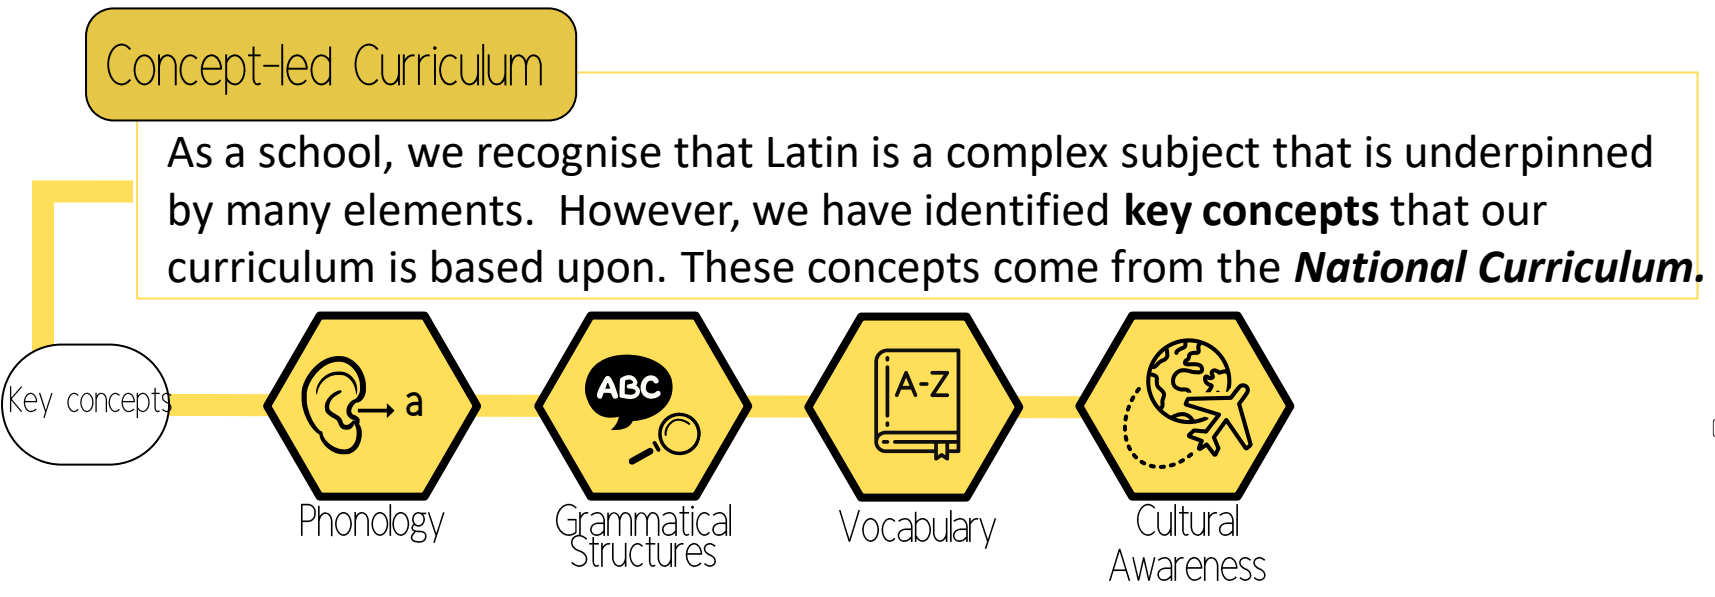

At Waterside Primary we know that Latin is fundamental to improve pupils' literacy, it paves the way for learning modern foreign languages and it helps pupils to develop analytical skills. Studying the ancient world gives pupils the chance to understand the foundations of western culture and civilisation and promote understanding of the differences between cultures – a quality not to be underestimated in our multi-cultural society.

Implementation - How do we achieve our aims?

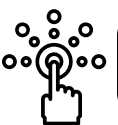

Implementation (continued)

Global Citizen Link

Having awareness and understanding of the wider world and our place in it is vital to our Latin ideology, where each unit contains a lesson which is planned meaningfully to enhance learners' appreciation of other cultures, including ancient civilisations.

Interactive Lessons

Latin lessons involve a range of activities including games, simple drama activities and songs. This allows ample opportunity for children to learn through a variety of strategies and to embed key concepts into children's long-term memory through repetition in a variety of means.

Strong Vocabulary development

The Minimus cartoon presentation will be used to develop children's language as it builds from previous language and provides regular repetition of key words, phrases along with masculine and feminine verbs and adjectives. Latin has been chosen to allow for exploration of etymology and morphology alongside a stronger focus on developing children's language and vocabulary acquirement.

Linguistic Progression

The programme develops knowledge of grammar concepts and language incrementally, building upon previous knowledge, increasing complexity and introducing new concepts term-by-term. These include: declension and function of Latin nouns, conjugation of Latin verbs, the usage of Latin adverbs and adjectives, the use of prepositions, the role of gender in Latin language.

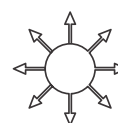

Reading in Latin

Enhancing children's vocabulary and promoting a love of reading and language is at the heart of our Latin curriculum. Children have the opportunity to read Latin through a range of texts including, but not exclusive to: stories, reports, storyboards, mythical stories and primary sources.

Latin beyond lessons

Our lessons offer every pupil the opportunity to build a range of transferable skills including: a solid understanding of syntax, grammar and the basics of linguistics; a strong basis for learning Romance languages; an ability to contextualise the history of Western civilisation; the use of critical thinking and problem solving strategies; an introduction to a culturally-significant language which underpins much of Western history.

Cross curricular links

Our Latin curriculum is designed to have widespread cross-curricular relevance, supporting understanding of literacy, numeracy and science.

Links with SMSC

The Minimus programme provides ample opportunity to incorporate links to the SMSC curriculum. This includes, but is not specific to: The evils in the world today (Pandora's Box,) health and safety, risks of pregnancy without antenatal care, military service, superstitions and slavery, to name a few.

British Values links

Our Latin curriculum promotes British Values links as it increases children's ability to express themselves in a variety of ways. We aim to increase children's understanding of other cultures in looking at ancient mythology and the rules and expectations from the ancient world.

Recording in Latin

Children's work will be evidenced in their books to show their translation and language understanding.

Impact - How will we know we have achieved our aims?

Children can refer Latin learning to their understanding of the English language.

Children can describe the changes in grammatical form across tense and gender.

Children are confidently describing the etymology and morphology of key vocabulary

Children are confident and eloquent in speaking Latin aloud.

Children are able to make cross-curricular links and deepen their understanding of key topics from their knowledge of Latin and its history.
