

PERSONAL DEVELOPMENT NEWS

Nothing but the best

1st Hello March 2024

RESPECT

Welcome to the second newsletter of Half Term 4. Continuing from the launch of the behaviour curriculum this week, we have been praising students demonstrating respect for others and when students are not meeting the standards we expect, reminding them of this and modelling how to show respect. This week's theme has been respecting staff.

THIS WEEK'S THEME: WORLD BOOK DAY

Aspirational

Next week is the official celebration of World Book Day, in order to prepare students for this, the theme of World Book Day has been introduced.

Miss Scott has led assemblies telling students all about the exciting events that will happen next week and promoting them to students. Reading is so important for students personal development, for their progress and their wellbeing. Please encourage reading with your son/daughter with the tips below.

Ways to encourage your child to read:

BENEFITS

of Reading:

- Exercises the brain
- Develops creativity
- Improves writing skills
- Increases concentration and focus
- Increases the ability to empathise with others
- Improves wellbeing

STUDENT LEADERSHIP

Student leadership is important to us at Wellfield Academy, this week started with Hot Chocolate with Mr Lewis for those prefects having the most achievement points for completing their prefect duties.
