Dear Parents

Tomorrow we are looking forward to holding our first drop-down Personal, Social, Health and Careers' Education (PSHCE) Day of the year. On this day, our timetabled curriculum will be suspended in order for us to address wider topics within the themes of relationships, health and living in the wider world. The purpose of delivering PSHCE in school is to enable students to make well-informed decisions during their school years and beyond.

Relationships and Sex Education (RSE) is an important part of our PSHCE course and throughout the year we will be delivering age-appropriate lessons to various year groups on this subject. Students will have the opportunity to ask questions, which will be answered factually, and no individual will be asked to reveal any personal information. Parents have the right to withdraw students from some or all aspects of RSE until three terms before their 16th birthday, when students are able to receive this education without parental consent. We believe that it is important for students to participate in these sessions in order for them to have the opportunity to discuss pressures, check facts and dispel myths. Please refer to our school website for further details on our RSE policy (<https://wellfieldacademy.org/about-us/policies>) and complete the form if you have any concerns about your child accessing this content. Our preference would always be that students attend these carefully-planned sessions and learn about facts rather than discussing things informally and hearing information second-hand from peers outside of the classroom.

Please see the information below for further information on the content of the morning for each year group. Please do not hesitate to get in touch if you wish to discuss any element in further detail.

Year 10:

- Aspirations – changing jobs market
- Financial management – budgeting and dilemmas
- Developing independent learning
- Being healthy – making informed choices and seeking help for unhealthy behaviours

Year 11:

- College applications
- Study skills – what works best for you?
- Financial management – influences on financial decisions
- Obstacles in the workplace – rights and responsibilities, discrimination, harassment, challenging stereotypes

The afternoon session will be delivered in vertical tutor groups and will cover recognising and understanding the risks of social media extremes. There have been some worrying trends in recent news, which we understand can be difficult for parents to discuss at home. For further information on how to support your child with this and encourage them to make good choices, there is a lot of information available on the website below, from where other support is also well signposted:

We usually find that attendance is good on PSHCE days, as students enjoy the sessions and get a great deal from them, but in the case of non-attendance for any reason, students will be expected to complete the missed work. All lessons will be signposted on ClassCharts for any student who may be absent on the day.

Yours faithfully

H E Livesley
