FARTHING WOOD

Our trip today was fantastic! It had an art focus and we did various activities at Scarborough Art Gallery and Woodend. We thought about conservation and did activities about bees, bug houses and how certain living things have adapted to changes in our environment. During our self-led tour of the art gallery we identified different types of historical evidence, thought about how and why the artwork had been created and which were our favourite pieces. We then finished with some first hand observational drawing of our coast.
