When getting on/off the coach, I will walk sensibly and not run.
I will wear my seat belt at all times during the journey (legal requirement in France).
When we stop at service stations in England and France, I will walk from the coach sensibly in the direction of the service station entrance, paying attention to parked cars and any cars leaving the car park.
I will listen to the coach driver's safety announcements at the beginning of the journey and remember where the emergency exits are.
I will not get out of or kneel on my seat whilst the coach is driving.

TRAVELLING BY FERRY
When the coach is waiting to get on the ferry, I will stay in my seat.
I will listen carefully to the safety announcements given by the teachers in charge of each coach about safety and getting off the coach and on the ferry.
When we are going up the stairs that lead from the parking deck to the main part of the ferry, I will walk sensibly and not run as the stairs may be slippy.
I will listen to which set of stairs to return to when we are ready to get off the ferry.
I will listen to the safety announcements given by the ferry staff at the beginning of the journey (the announcements are usually given in French and then in English).

I will 'check in' with my teachers at the given times at the band stand at the entrance of the park.
I will follow the safety precautions at the entrance of each ride.
I will queue sensibly and walk between rides, not run.
I am aware of any medical conditions that I have that may mean I cannot go on certain rides. I will read the health and safety instructions at the start of each ride.
