Reading to children, even before they can understand words, teaches them to associate books with love and affection.

READING DIARY

The more that you read, the more things you will know,
The more that you learn, the more places you'll go.

-Dr. Seuss

Use this space to write. It could be a new chapter, a new character, a diary, a script, a poem, a letter or just your own response.

Which books made you feel sad?

Which books made your heart race?

Which books made you want to change the world?

Your child is never too old to listen to you read or to read to you.

When parents read to their children, they are exposing them to richer vocabulary than they can read by themselves.

Praise them for trying.

Talk about the start of the story, the end, the surprises, the heroes and the villains.

Children who read at least 20 minutes per day will be exposed to over 1 million word per year. Those who read less than 1 minute per day will see less than 8,000. Make time for reading.

Reading is a pleasure.
Reading helps you dream.
