14th June 2023

Our focus book for this week is:

We have been:

- listening carefully to the story "Be Brave Little Penguin"
- painting and drawing different kinds of penguins
- painting rocks like penguins
- continuing to explore the different sea creatures in the water tray
- learning about the globe and what it represents
- linking the globe to a flat map of the earth
- learning where we are on the globe and world map and where penguins live
- understanding why humans can't live in Antarctica
- learning the different continents
- being able to spot where United Kingdom is on the map of the world
- beginning to look at Rekenreks to explore our numbers to 10 with the "5 and a bit structure" (5 and 2 is 7)
- using prepositional language to direct other children with construction
- recapping and solidifying our knowledge of doubles
- enjoying the new mud kitchen and all of the amazing new resources!
- turning our mud kitchen into a seaside café

Thank you so much to everyone who gave so generously to the new mud kitchen! The children are really benefitting. Their learning is being pushed forwards. I am very grateful for the kindness! Miss Hargreaves

- Writing names on jumpers and cardigans
- Remembering to bring hats/caps in the hotter weather.
