

Short sharp	Connective	Speech		Preposition	2A
Short sentences that add impact or tension to a piece of writing. Examples He stood motionless. Its eyesight is excellent. It is important. Three hundred people died. It was too late.	Sentences that begin with a connective (or connective phrase) followed by a comma. Examples However, not all Victorians were poor. Just then, the frog turned into a handsome Prince. After that, the rain stopped and the children raced outside.	Sentences that contain speech to show what is being said and by whom. The spoken words are held in speech marks/inverted commas. Examples "Look out!" yelled Michael, as the wardrobe came crashing down upon them. "Did you have a nice day?" asked mum. PC Smith declared, "Mr Harris was foolish to think he could get away with it."		Sentences that begin by showing the position of people or objects. Examples Behind the door, stood the ancient, wooden grandfather clock. Up the stairs, along the narrow corridor, there stood a giant statue. Under the table, in the middle of the room, there was a rug.	Sentences that have two adjectives separated by a comma followed by a noun. Examples Rainforests grow in warm, wet countries. A blast of icy, cold wind shot through the room. The warm, musty hall was filled with unfamiliar faces.
Question		-ing			Descriptive
Sentences that contain a question to ask the reader something. Examples Would the life boat arrive in time? Could this be the end? Why not try this delicious recipe at home?		Sentences that begin with a verb ending in 'ing'. Examples Searching for food, the squirrels scrambled up the tree. Looking out of the window, Jack watched his friends playing football.			A simple sentence containing a powerful verb, an adjective and an adverb. Examples The waves crashed onto the beach. The waves crashed angrily onto the beach. The waves crashed angrily onto the golden beach. The little girl crept slowly to the bathroom.
Imperative	Simile			1 pair	Adverb
Sentences that start with an imperative verb. Examples Cook the cheesecake for 20 minutes. Take care when handling the animals.	A simile sentence has a central simile which creates a vivid picture in the reader's mind. We could call them 'like a... 'as a...' sentences too! Examples He had a temper like a volcano. A polar bear's nose is as black as a piece of coal.			A pair of adjectives separated by the word and, followed by a comma. Examples Smart and durable, school uniforms are remarkably cheap. Cold and wet, we headed for home. Tired and alone, the elderly lady sat at the bus stop.	Adverb sentences are those that use an adverb at the beginning, followed by a comma, to describe the action (verb). Examples Quickly, he ran to the edge of the road. Patiently, we stood waiting for the bus. Triumphantly, he shook his fist in the air.
	Conjunction			List
	Two simple sentences that are joined together with a conjunction: for, and, nor, but, or, yet, so (FANBOYS) to form a compound sentence. Remember to include a comma before the conjunction. Examples He was a friendly boy most of the time, yet he could be nasty. The sun shone, and the birds sang. It was raining, so he got his coat. Add the milk, but ensure the egg is in the bowl.			Sentences that contain a list of items or actions separated by a comma. The last two items in the list are usually separated by the word 'and' Examples Zebras, lions, elephants and giraffes all live in the zoo. We bought four juicy oranges, a carton of milk, a loaf of bread and some ginger biscuits.

		Connective			Speech				Preposition		2A
		Causal because therefore subsequently so as a result consequently for this reason	Time afterwards finally first just then last later meanwhile soon then until when while since in the end next after that as	Compare/ contrast whereas however despite nevertheless although on the other hand alternatively in addition as well as in spite of besides also moreover	yelled asked claimed shouted suggested taunted urged uttered wailed warned commented complained cried demanded described explained	declared whispered bellowed exclaimed responded requested revealed roared scolded screamed shouted shrieked snapped sneered pleaded questioned	requested acknowledged admitted agreed announced answered argued babbled boasted bragged observed replied ordered	called laughed mentioned moaned mumbled murmured nagged objected reassured repeated said giggled grunted insisted instructed	behind in front of inside in next to near underneath under close to on	over upon within into among above beneath against beside around	large, cold small, poky long, winding tall, majestic overgrown, messy weak, lifeless cold, deserted happy, joyous eerie, silent slushy, wet cool, crisp	hot, sticky old, lifeless bright, shiny short, stumpy loud, overcrowded warm, tingly soft, smooth vast, empty
Question					-ing
who...?	could...?				searching	talking	typing why...?	would...?				looking	shouting	kicking what...?	can...?				crying	sharing	writing when...?	is...?				talking	eating	sailing how...?					skating	drinking	dressing delivering	soaring	brushing running	floating	cooking clapping	rowing	making jumping	swimming	flying wrapping	riding
Imperative									1 pair		Adverb do	take								tired & lonely	old & battered	quickly	stupidly	happily	tearfully do not	make								cold & hungry	shiny & new	carefully	hurtfully	sadly	joyfully walk	twist								warm & safe	tall & thin	slowly	nosily	kindly	jubilantly paint	halve								scared & alone	short & stumpy	cautiously	noisily	funnily	tediously show	pile								happy & excited	noisy & crowded	hurriedly	gently	angrily	surprisingly go	stir								surprised & enthusiastic	long & wobbly	temptingly	loudly	wildly	peacefully turn	fill								nervous & unsure	old & twisted	graciously	quietly	lazily	rudely swim	blow								quickly & quietly	sad & worried	generously	silently	wearily	swiftly hold	spread								anxious & upset	soft & smooth	clumsily	horribly	tiredly	firmly cut	mix										heatedly	softly	hungrily	annoyingly pour	stick										terribly	rapidly	helpfully	abnormally incredibly	viciously	fiercely	hopelessly Conjunction
		for	and	nor	but	or	yet	so						