

Week 6 - Writing Task

Write as many different questions as you can, starting with 'What if...?'
Choose one of them and write about it.

Some examples if you get stuck:

What if you could be invisible for a day? What would you do?

What if you could be any animal in the world. What would you be, and why?

What if you never had to sleep? What would you do with the extra hours?

What if you wrote a book for children? What would it be about?

What if you could travel anywhere in the world? Where would you go, and why?

What if you could ask an animal a question? What would you ask, and why?

What if you could have any dream you like each night? What would your dream be about?

What if you could invent something to save the world? What do you think it would be?

What if you could grow up to be famous, what would you want to be famous for?

Find the mistakes and Extend a sentence

Uncorrected Text:

Monkeys in Space

Two monkeys became the first living creatures to survive a space flight in May of 1959. The monkey's names were Able and Baker. They were shot in to space inside the nose of a rocket. Scientists needed to know if it would be safe for humans to go to space; they sent the monkeys to see how they would do. They monkeys proved that human's could survive a space flight.

Extended sentences

How can you improve this basic sentence?

The monkey screeched.

- a) How did the monkey screech?
- b) Where did the monkey screech?
- c) When did the monkey screech?
- d) Why did the monkey screech?

Write your new complete sentence below.

Answer Key:

Two monkeys became the first living creatures to survive a space flight in May of 1959. The monkeys' names were Able and Baker. They were shot into space inside the nose of a rocket. Scientists needed to know if it would be safe for humans to go to space; they sent the monkeys to see how they would do. The monkeys proved that humans could survive a space flight.