

The value of APPRECIATION

Year 6 think that appreciation is when you show that you are grateful for something, especially if somebody else has done something kind for you like helping you if you're upset or struggling with your work.

At Zouch the year 6 children often praise their friends if they have done something well to show appreciation or they use their manners by thanking them to show that they appreciate what it was they did. The children said that they sometimes write a note, card or buy a gift to also show appreciation.
